Wiggly Bridge Distillery Hits Trifecta At The 2015 American Craft Spirits Association's Craft Spirits Judging Awards

February 15, 2015
Austin Texas,

On Sunday evening, February 15, the winners of the Second Annual Craft Spirits Competition were honored during the Awards Dinner as part of the ACSA Distillers Convention and Vendor Trade Show in Austin, Texas.

And York, Maine based Wiggly Bridge Distillery hits a trifecta with a 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place finish in the 2015 American Craft Spirits Association's Craft Spirits Judging Awards.

Each year this tasting competition is held evaluating Craft Spirits for its quality, complexity, depth and flavor profile.

Receiving a 3rd Place Medal was awarded for their Small Barrel Rum, a 2nd Place Medal for their Small Barrel Bourbon Whisky and the coveted 1st place medal for their White Whisky.

Three hundred and twenty-nine entries were submitted from over 200 craft spirits distilleries from across the country in six main categories: Whiskey, Brandy, Rum, Gin, Liqueurs, Distilled Spirits Specialty (DSS), and Vodka. Almost half (155) of all the spirits entered were whiskeys. "We're seeing more whiskeys than ever," states Ted Huber, ACSA vice president and Judging Committee co-chair. "They are literally and figuratively 'coming out of the woodwork,' as these spirits have now been aging for up to four years and are ready to be appreciated. It's a clear sign of the maturing of our craft industry."
